VOL. , NO. 220 | FRESNO, CAL., WEDNSEDAY, JUNE 15, 1892 | PRICE—FIVE CENT

NATIVE DAUGHTERS

In State Convention at the Capital.

REPORTS FROM THE PARLORS

A Welcome By the Governor, and a Reception by the Citizens.

SACRAMENTO, June 14.—The Grand Parlor of the Native Daughters of the Golden West opened here today, nearly all subordinate parlors being represented.

Sessions are being held in the senate chamber and members of the local parlors have had it beautifully decorated for the occasion, each desk being supplied with handsome bouquets.

Reports of the grand officers show that five new parlors have been organized during the past year. The balance in the treasury is $1835.

Delegates and visitors were tendered a full dress reception tonight at the art gallery where they were welcomed by Governor Markham.

Tomorrow they will be driven about the city and in the evening a grand open air concert will be given in Capital park in their honor.

On Tuesday night the visitors will be tendered a full dress invitation ball in the assembly chamber.

Selecting Wine Judges.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 14.—A meeting of the general committee appointed at the late state viticultural convention to supervise the viticultural exhibit to be made at the Chicago exposition was held today, and Arpad Haraszthy was chosen chairman.

The subjects considered were questions of ways and means, and the selection of jurors to represent California among the judges who shall pass on the wines submitted for competition at Chicago.

Chairman Haraszthy said the State World's Fair commission had suggested some names, but none of the persons indicated were, in his opinion, suitable, as most of them never had been heard of in connection with wines. He submitted the names of Otto E. Erickson of Chicago, Colonel Charles McLeenen of New York, and F. Popendorff and H. A. Diehl of San Francisco, and it was agreed to write to the state commissioners and ask that a delay of thirty days be granted the viticultural committee, in which to submit nominations.

Something Wrong Somewhere.

CHICAGO, June 14.—A letter was received at the World's Fair headquarters from John Daggett, one of the members of the California state board, stating that the board would not take any interest in the exposition exhibition for a forestry building, and that all they intended to do was to prepare an exhibit to go into the California state building. This is similar to one received some time ago in reference to an exhibit in the mining building. The chief of the forestry building says he is authorized by this letter not to reserve any space in the building for a California exhibit. The general disposition now at headquarters is not to reserve any space in any of the buildings for a California exhibit except what they have agreed to take in the agricultural building.

Ten Were Drowned.

BANGOR, Me., June 14.—What appears to have been a tornado passed over the southern end of this city late this afternoon, crossed over the river and went through Brower, destroyed and moved several buildings, leveled horse sheds and did other damage. Then it took houses and chimneys on the river banks, after which it descended on the river.

The steam launch Annie, that plies between Bangor and Hampden, had just left the dock and had on board twenty persons. The boat was overturned and sank. In all twelve persons were saved so far as is now known. The body of Miss Hattie Adams was recovered. Seven bodies are missing.

Royal Ratification.

CHICAGO, June 14.—A ratification meeting was held at the auditorium last night under the auspices of the Republican clubs. The great building was completely filled and much enthusiasm was displayed. Addresses were delivered by Governor McKinley, John M. Thurston and others. A message was received from President Harrison thanking the clubs for the telegram of congratulation, and a telegram was sent to Blaine conveying regards.

Two Good Shots.

ARKANSAS CITY, June 14.—For several days Mrs. J. A. McCormick, the wife of a wealthy ranchman living at Willow Springs, has been here in company with D. C Jones of King Fisher. McCormick last night surprised the guilty couple in a room together and opened fire on Jones, who returned the fire with the result that both were shot and killed almost instantly. Mrs. McCormick fled in her nightdress, but was instantly arrested.

Lost Jaglets.

BALTIMORE, June 14.—A fire broke out this afternoon on the Norfolk boat at Union dock where nearly 1000 barrels of whisky and other inflammable material was stored. A large schooner caught fire from the steamer and, getting loose, floated about the harbor blazing. The flames communicated to the fruit packing house of W. S. Boyer & Co. The loss is over $500,000.

All Under Water.

NEW ORLEANS, June 14.—All hope of closing the Belmont crevasse, forty-eight miles above here, has been abandoned. The break is now more than 200 feet wide, twelve feet deep and cutting rapidly. The water from the Belmont and Parapy's crevasse, thirty miles above this city, has flooded the Mississippi valley covering all penetations along the river front.

Lets Cleveland Out.

WINNEMUCCA, Nev., June 14.—The executive committee of the silver clubs of Nevada issued a call to-day for a state convention to be held in Reno on June 24th, for the purpose of nominating three presidential electors pledged to vote only for a free coinage candidate.

Corbett in Training.

LECHARBOUR, N. J., June 14.—Jim Corbett, accompanied by William A. Brady, his manager and trainer, Billy Delaney and Bob Dillon, arrived here this afternoon. He at once was taken to the house of Brady, which will be the summer home and training quarters of Corbett.

WOULD BE PROPER.

Rumor That Depew Will Succeed Blaine.

NEW YORK, June 14.—The announcement that Secretary Elkins had arrived with a message from President Harrison to Chauncey M. Depew, asking him to accept the portfolio of secretary of state, has created considerable comment among Republicans in this city.

It is impossible to learn the truth of the matter, as Depew left the city to spend the night with Whitelaw Reid.

A Southern Shake.

RIVERSIDE, June 14.—The heaviest earthquake ever felt here in many months, occurred at 5:30 this morning. No damage was done.

Santa Ana—A shock of earthquake lasting nearly thirty seconds was felt here this morning. The vibrations were from east to west.

Pomona—A sharp earthquake was felt here at 5:25 o'clock this morning. It lasted only a few seconds.

A Frightful Fall.

MIDDLEBORO, Ky., June 14.—A frightful wreck occurred at a trestle at Lonesome Hollow this afternoon. A freight train with sixteen loaded cars went through the trestle, a distance of 250 feet. Engineer Frank Sargent, Fireman Henry Slonker and Conductor Duckworth were instantly killed. Four were mortally wounded and six others slightly hurt.

Hopeful Hillites.

NEW YORK, June 14.—A second conference of the Democratic leaders was held here last night. There were present Senator Hill, Lieutenant Governor Sheehan, Hon. W. C. DeWitt, Hugh McLaughlin and Edward Murphy. The leaders express d renewed confidence that Hill would be nominated at Chicago.

An Embezzler Caught.

A dispatch was received last night from Constable George Matheson, stating that he had arrested C. S. Auburn in San Francisco on a charge of embezzlement. He will arrive with his prisoner today.

CONSIGNED TO EARTH.

BURIAL OF THE VALLEJO EXPLOSION VICTIMS.

Sad and Impressive Scenes Connected With the Last Sad Duty.

VALLEJO, June 14.—J. Brisco, the surviving victim of the magazine disaster, died at 1 o'clock today.

The funeral of the victims was postponed until 5 o'clock this afternoon that all might be buried together.

The funeral was a sad and imposing one and was participated in by the entire naval force at Mare Island.

The services were held at the naval hospital.

The bodies were loaded on gun carriages, all in plain coffins, which were draped with flags and covered with floral emblems of every variety.

The funeral was directed by Lieutenant Swinburne, assisted by Lieutenants Laird and Hughes.

Admiral John Irwin and staff were present.

The procession was escorted by the marine corps band and buglers. The bodies of the dead followed. Then came in regular order the Boston's crew as mourners, the entire force from the receiving ship Independence, and citizens and ladies in carriages, there being no less than 3000 people in line.

The march to the cemetery was mournful.

The graves had been dug all in one row, two feet apart, each opening being marked for the body to be placed in it.

Marines and sailors formed a square around the graves and the bodies were lowered.

Chaplain J. K. Lewis conducted the services.

The marine corps fired three volleys, and the remains of the victims of the explosion were consigned to dust.

The funeral was one of the saddest that ever took place at Mare Island, not excepting that of the victims of the Samoa disaster.

DIVORCE GRANTED.

Alice Emerson Gets a Decree Against William Emerson.

The divorce case of Alice Emerson against William Emerson came up for trial before Judge Harris yesterday.

The ground on which the divorce was asked was that Emerson had been convicted of a felony in the superior court of Tulare county was sentenced to serve two years in state's prison, where he now is.

Emerson was formerly a barkeeper for M. Denicke, in this city, and it was for forging Denicke's name that Emerson was sent up. It is stated there are other similar charges against him.

Mrs. Emerson was granted a decree with permission to resume her maiden name of Alice Budge.

Big Steel Trusses.

The steel trusses which are to support the roof of the Manufactures building in the World's fair grounds will be the largest in the world. There will be twenty-two trusses, and they will be erected in pairs. Each truss will cover a span of 336 feet, and from the center of the roof inside to the ground there will be a distance of 206 feet. Each truss weighs 206 tons, and 6,000 tons of steel will be used in the roof of the building. Above the trusses supporting the roof will be erected other trusses to support the lantern roof. These trusses will be thirty-six feet in height and each will span a distance of 150 feet.—Exchange.

Without Food for Eight Days.

A dispatch says that Joel Laytham, a prominent farmer of Maysville, Ky., missed one of his horses ten days ago, and after much searching finally discovered the animal buried beneath a rick of hay. It had been there for eight days, lying on its side, a storm having blown the hay over on it while sleeping. When taken out it walked off and commenced eating grass as though nothing unusual had happened.

The Easier Way.

Burglars in the town of Sulphur Rock, Ark., found it very difficult to open a safe in an office they had entered, so they suspended operations until they visited a livery stable, from which they stole a horse and wagon. They then returned to the safe, placed it on the wagon and drove off.—Yankee Blade.

GALVA'S GREAT GLOOM

A Cyclone Nearly Eliminates the Town

FROM THE FACE OF THE EARTH

Information From the Chicago Tornado of a Most Lamentable Nature.

GALVA, Ill., June 14.—A destructive tornado struck this place at 7.30 last evening.

The storm approached so suddenly that citizens had no time to reach a place of safety.

In the Methodist church there was a congregation and in the rink a committee had met to arrange for a Fourth of July celebration.

The church was quickly a mass of ruins and the congregation imprisoned. A number of people were injured.

The rink was blown down, but the inmates fortunately escaped without injury.

The roar of the storm was terrible and was accompanied by midnight darkness.

The wind carried everything before it.

Nearly every business house on Main street is unroofed and much damage done by water.

The Chicago, Burlington & Quincy roundhouse is totally wrecked.

A strip of country four miles wide and sixteen miles long is devastated.

The damage is estimated at $200,000.

The path of the tornado was about four miles wide.

After leaving Galva the storm took a southeasterly route up the Spoon river, doing much damage along the route.

From Spoon river to Altona, along the path of the storm, trees were uprooted, buildings blown down and other damage done.

A CLEVELAND CYCLONE

THREATENED BY A COURIER-JOURNAL MAN.

No Great Destruction Likely to Follow in the Wake of His Fatuency.

CHICAGO, June 14.—O. O. Stanley, the Washington correspondent of the Louisville Courier-Journal is in the city to attend the convention. In a dispatch to his paper tonight he stated that the Cleveland cyclone here next week would sweep everything before it, and that Cleveland would be nominated by acclamation before the roll call is half finished. He concludes his dispatch as follows:

"Since we cannot have John G. Carlisle for president this year, let us make him the permanent president of the greatest Democratic convention that ever met in this country. He is the man to answer McKinley's Minneapolis speech, and will make a tariff reform argument that will ring from one end of the country to the other."

A FORECAST

As to the Results of the Chicago Convention.

NEW YORK, June 14.—A Herald's Washington correspondent, speculating on the outcome of the Chicago convention, says:

"Cleveland will have no walk over, but the Democratic leaders in Washington believe that the ex-President will have to fight hard for a nomination. Gorman is the choice, apparently, of the majority of his senatorial conferees."

Of the platform, the correspondent says:

"An effort to obtain a strong civil service reform plank in the Democratic national platform is being made by the Democratic member of congress interested in the subject.

"The silver plank is the subject of considerable discussion among the Democratic members of congress. The silver men seem less disposed to make an aggressive fight than the representatives of the mining states were at the Republican convention. The opponents of free coinage are not expecting much difficulty in obtaining the plank that they want and the friends of free coinage evidently lost heart by repeated defeats in the Democratic ranks.

"Senator Stewart, the Republican silver agitator from Nevada, said in reply to the question as to what the Democrats would do on the silver question: 'Bah, they will do just the same as the Republicans. Why the gold bugs would send $1,000,000 or $2,000,000, if necessary, to buy up the whole convention.'"

Representative Bland, the free coinage advocate, was equally hopeless. The fact that one of the counties in his district recently adopted resolutions advising that tariff be made the predominant issue seems to kill his ardor. All that could be got from him as to whether an earnest fight would be made at Chicago for free silver coinage was, "I do not know; I don't know what will be done."

A Beautiful Effect in Mahogany.

A peculiarly fine effect in mahogany is obtained by sawing crotches. A piece is sawed just above and just below a point where two limbs shoot out on opposite sides. When such a piece is properly cut up into veneer the crotches show in beautiful plumelike markings through the middle of each sheet.—New York Sun.

A father and seven of his children were seized with diphtheria recently in its most virulent form near Landersdale, Ind. Two of the children are dead and the others are not expected to survive.

The first consignment of camel skins for commercial purposes ever brought to this country arrived here recently aboard one of the French steamers.

THE DEPUTY QUESTION.

A Special Session of the Legislature Requested.

The board of the supervisors before adjourning passed a resolution requesting Governor Markham to call an extra session of the legislature for the settlement of the deputy question.

District Attorney Tupper was requested to put the resolution in proper shape and is now engaged in the work.

The deputies are all at work. Though they feel somewhat unsettled, they are of the opinion that they will not be permitted to work for nothing and intend to hold on.

Auditor Bramlett seemed to consider the district attorney's suggestion as to the way out of the difficulty with favor and may allow the claims of the deputies if made out in accordance with Mr. Tupper's suggestion.

MEADE'S CLAIM.

The Matter Heard Before Judge Harris Yesterday.

The case of O. J. Meade, formerly sheriff of this county, against Fresno county, to recover $5060 which he overpaid the county during his term of office, was tried before Judge Harris yesterday.

The witnesses for the plaintiff were Meade himself, Auditor R. U. Bramlett and Treasurer T. P. Nelson. Their testimony was in accord with the reports of the experts and a report of Auditor Bramlett, which showed Meade entitled to the sum sued for. The contents of these reports have been frequently given in THE REPUBLICAN so that everybody is familiar with them.

The defense declined to introduce any testimony, and Judge Harris fixed the argument for June 18th.

Too Much Heat.

NEW YORK, June 14.—The intense heat of yesterday continued today throughout this section and New England. Numerous cases of prostration are being reported. Tonight the atmosphere was cooled by a thunder shower. In the city there was an increase in the death rate, due to the excessive heat. Yesterday there were 77 deaths and today there were 100.

PROHIBITIONISTS.

THEIR OBJECTS CLEARLY EXPLAINED BY AN EXPERT.

They Are Opposed to Making Men Immoral by Law, and They Refute Frivolous Objections.

EDITOR REPUBLICAN.—Professor Rudolph Leonhart Sr. has in your issue of June 12th an article on "Temperance" which is somewhat mistaken in its tenets. I therefore ask space for a few corrections.

The article is a criticism of the policy of prohibiting the liquor traffic and of the only part that champions that policy. It contains two points and conveys by implication two wrong impressions.

The points are: You can't make men moral by law, therefore prohibition would be useless.

Prohibition does not prohibit.

The wrong impressions are:

The Prohibition party is a temperance society.

The liquor evil is the only evil it recognizes.

Let us notice these in turn:

Prohibitionists are not trying to make men moral by law. We are opposed, however, to making men immoral by law. Professor Leonhart is a member of the People's party, which poses as a panacea for all financial evils. If the writer were to accuse the People's party of attempting to make men rich by law the respected professor, surprised at such culpable ignorance, would make the correction that its object was to keep men from being made poor by law. Do you see the parallel? The professor has entirely mistaken the theory of prohibition. Its purpose is financial, social and political reform by stopping the manufacture and sale of intoxicants for beverage purposes. Whether prohibition would accomplish, in a measure, such reform I leave to the dictates of common sense, to the unanswerable testimony of experience and to the United States supreme court. Its decisions for forty years have encouraged the impractical zealots called Prohibitionists.

Permit one extract in which the policy of prohibition is sustained: "If a loss of revenue should accrue to the United States from a diminished consumption of ardent spirits she will be the gainer a thousand fold in the health, wealth and happiness of the people." (5 How. 632).

Of course prohibition will not prohibit. No one but its opponents ever even so much as assumed that it would prohibit. If the only vindication of a statute was absolutism we would burn our codes tomorrow. Prohibition would prohibit as much, however, as the laws against murder, theft, counterfeiting, food adulteration, etc.

There is some interesting reading in this connection in the reports of Governor Martin of Kansas, which would be of educational advantage to a few people.

The mission of the Prohibition party is not to reform the drunkard. It leaves that to the churches and temperance societies. The Prohibition party is a political organization, one of whose objects is to stop the financial waste and political corruption which the traffic engenders, and to aid the public school by abutting up the schools of vice and anarchy which are now licensed to tear down the morality and manhood of the country.

Is it not possible that the word prohibition may refer to something besides the liquor traffic? For a number of years this word, as the name of a party, has referred to the liquor traffic, trusts, unjust extortion by railroads and other corporations, indiscriminate immigration and gambling in margins and corners. Besides which it has favored monetary reform and suffrage based on educational qualifications without distinction of sex.

In conclusion would it not be well for self constituted critics to know the nature of that which they criticise. It may perhaps not be necessary for me to allude to the time worn adage of the danger of half knowledge. M. B. HARRIS.

THE leopard cannot change his spots, but then that animal has not the versatility of the Hill delegates-at-large to the national convention who have gone to Chicago to vote for Grover Cleveland.

THE Los Angeles Times, which was one of the most aggressive advocates of Blaine, now stands on the broad platform that principles are greater than men and accords a cheerful support to the national ticket. The Times is too broad gauge to balk when the issue of protection to American industry is at stake.

THE fact that Justice Prince has announced his intention to take a vacation at the time when the Fahey-O'Connor assault case comes up for trial in his court, has given rise to the opinion that he is trying to evade the responsibility of trying the case. The justice can easily set that report at rest by deferring his pleasure trip for a few days.

THE Oakland Times of recent date fills its first editorial column with pictures of five prominent Democrats who are aspirants for the presidential nomination. It is noticeable that Mr. Hill's picture appears at the head of the column and Grover Cleveland's next to the bottom, which reminds us that when you "convince a man against his will he's of the same opinion still."

THE Ladies' World Fair association of Fresno county are very much in earnest in the work they have undertaken, and can be depended upon to make a success of those features of the exhibit to which they will give their attention. All who desire the success of the Fresno exhibit should extend a helping hand to the ladies. They can be depended on to make good use of every facility afforded them.

THE REPUBLICAN has no disposition to find fault with its Democratic brethren for christening their latest organization the Grover Cleveland club, but if an event not at all impossible should happen and that gentleman be laid on the shelf by the national convention, the name might prove a little awkward. It is a little like naming a child before its sex is known. If it should prove to be Hill—but that is really unthinkable in this connection.

THE Examiner says that the McKinley bill is the enemy of progress because it levys a duty on imported aluminum. Will the Examiner kindly inform us why the United States should not manufacture its own aluminum? What is the objection to the American article? The United States manufacturers iron and steel a great deal cheaper than those articles were formerly supplied by England. Why, then, should it not make its own aluminum, and furnish labor to its own workmen?

IS ALFALFA everlasting? It is yet to be proven that it is not. The Visalia Delta says that on the Heinzen ranch at Livermore is a small patch of seven or eight acres of alfalfa, which was sown in 1864. The only thing done to it, except the regular cutting of hay, was last year, when it was plowed and the ground sown to wheat. This year there is a fair stand of alfalfa again, which is thriftily growing and spreading, so that it will soon be as good as it ever was. Alfalfa is the most valuable plant of the kind that grows in this climate.

THE Selma Irrigator suggests that as the Chinese highbinders have introduced certain oriental crimes in this country that we might appropriately make use of the Chinese methods of punishment, viz: chopping off the heads of the culprits. The chopping process is good enough, but we do not see that it offers any particular advantage over the time honored American custom of hanging by the neck. The failure to prevent crime is not due to methods of punishment as much as to frequent failures to inflict punishment of any kind. The Chinese criminals have a very high appreciation of the twists an I turns which justice is dedicated in the courts of a Christian nation.

EDITORIAL TRIUMPHS.

The life of the newspaper man is not entirely made up of struggles with persistent creditors and angry subscribers. Luck comes his way occasionally, and there are rare but unmistakable evidence that the importance of his work is appreciated. Indeed, the signs are not wanting that the star of journalism is in the ascendancy. An editor has just been nominated for vice president of the United States, and it is given out that our own M. H. de Young could have had the distinguished honor for the asking. This is encouraging. If the great guns of journalism are thus sought out for preferment, it is not altogether certain that it may not become the custom of the county to reward common newspaper men with something beside hard kicks. That is a cheerful view to take of the matter at any rate, and it pays to be hopeful. As convincing evidence of the truth of that statement we cite the case of the editor of the Siesons Mascot, who is realizing large dividends out of hope and a large measure of joy for present affluence. His paper has just passed its first annual milestone, and he writes as follows regarding that important epoch:

A year has rolled by and the Mascot may be said to have passed safely over the period most propitious to financial colic. During this period the editor with unusual forethought and determination has never been whipped or refused to take a drink. The goddess of fortune has been peculiarly kind to us, the man who promised us wood on subscription having actually brought it, and the lawn tennis suit left in our office last summer by the tourist who was drowned in the Sacramento river was a most perfect fit. We are now publishing six copies a week, and are running two advertisements, one for a dentist and the other for an undertaker, payable in trade, which is just the game as money to us. The policy of this sheet for the next few months will be governed entirely by the liberality of the candidates. Whatever we express in these columns will be C. O. D. We thank our friends in advance for the patronage which they are going to give us and will strive to forget the past.

It will be seen from this that the less prominent members of the guild have their streaks of good fortune and their triumphs as well as their difficulties and tribulations. Messrs. De Young and Reid, of course, publish larger newspapers and have larger lists of subscribers than the editor of the Siesons Mascot, but they are probably not more happy when a foreign mission, a senatorship or the vice presidency comes their way, than the editor of the Mascot is when a belated load of cordwood drives up to his office door or he falls heir by aut of providence as it were to a suit of good second-hand clothes. The vice presidency is a nice thing for the man who gets it, but there is also solid comfort in cordwood and clothes to the person who needs them in his business.

Boils.

Boils according to Dr. King, an eminent authority "are generally connected with derangements of the liver and stomach." While the older Sarsaparillas contain potash which aggravates eruptions, Joy's is peculiarly a stomach and bowel corrective, and is the only one that is so. Its regulating influences cause boils to dry up and disappear almost immediately. A case in point.

"I had boils break out on my neck. One had busted. I took Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla and in a few days the other boils had dried up. In the spring of 1890 I took one of the other Sarsaparillas and the result was a mass of pimples. Hearing that Joy's was later and acted differently I used it this year with the above satisfactory results."

J. NEWMAN, Alameda, Cal.

Formerly with the "Alta California." S. F.

Robt. Walsh, with Wells Fargo & Co., and scores of other San Franciscans report the same experience. It avoids the use of the lance

JOY'S Vegetable Sarsaparilla

As it is the only Sarsaparilla that purifies the blood without the ugly potash eruptions, insist on Joy's and don't be talked into taking another.

GAS

At $2.50 Per Thousand Feet

IS CHEAPER FOR LIGHT THAN THE SO-called 16-candle power Incandescent Lamps. One 5-foot gas burner gives as much Light as two 16 candle incandescent lamps.

Gas for cooking is cheaper and safer than gasoline and removes all danger from fire and reduces your insurance. We positively guarantee that our stove burners will use only 2½ cents worth of gas per hour. We furnish consumers with gas stoves at actual cost. We make no profit on stoves. Where a stove is wanted in rooms the consumer will pay for pipe work and connection, which will not exceed $2.50. In dwellings the consumer will be charged for labor and pipe from curb to meter.

Call at our office for testimonials as to the economy of gas for cooking and all particulars relating to pipe and stoves and prices.

Mrs. H. A. Hawkins says: The gas used for lighting two families and also for cooking cost them $1.25 in May, and she would not be without the stove.

E. S. Valentine says he has displaced wood entirely and has stove connected with boiler and is a perfect success.

Mrs. Wm. Harvey says: I find by using gas as a fuel for cooking a success as compared to cost of wood. We have displaced wood entirely.

REMARKABLE!

YET TRUE

Is the fact, but we continue to lead as the cheapest [illegible] the valley.

THE REASONS WHY!

1. Because we deal with only the largest firms in the United States.
2. Because we buy in such quantities as to obtain [illegible] prices.
3. Because we are content with a smaller percentage of Profit than any house in the San Joaquin Valley.

You Don't Believe It?

Of course not. We don't expect you to until we are permitted to demonstrate the fact in a purchase that will open your eyes wider than they have ever been opened before, even in this wide-awake community. However it remains with you to be convinced.

A Marvel of Nature.

The Winged Girl, a beautiful little lady without arms, but immature wings instead will be on exhibition for the first time in Fresno on Wednesday night. The following in regard to this wonderful being is from the Santa Cruz Record:

"Little Marian, the armless girl who is now on exhibition in the Sweeney building next to the postoffice, is certainly a wonderful curiosity. She is a very pretty little girl and uses her feet with great ease, and does with them what almost any girl of the same age does with her hands. She writes her name, combs her hair, feeds herself, and can do more with her feet than any girl in Santa Cruz. She is a sight that every one should see. Her mother travels with her constantly. She will be on exhibition until Monday next."

ANOTHER CASE ⧋ED

The Daly Vagrancy Case Dismissed on the Sly.

A TRAVESTY ON JUSTICE

An Official Who Contemplates Dodging the Responsibility of the Fahey Trial.

"Judge, has the case of John F. Daly for vagrancy been set for trial yet?" asked a REPUBLICAN reporter yesterday of Recorder Laning.

"Daly; Daly;" repeated the recorder, musingly. Then after a pause in order to refresh his memory he replied, "O, yes; that case was dismissed several days ago."

"Why?" was asked.

"Because the complaining witness said that he had no evidence," replied the recorder.

"Who was the complaining witness?" was asked.

"Officer Zener; by the by, when you asked me the other day whether the case was set for trial and when I examined the record I found that it was not set. But it was set and placed on the calendar, although not placed on the record."

Special Policeman Ragsdale who was listening to the conversation said: "If Zener had no evidence against Daly, the rest of the police force had. They knew that Daly was living off the earnings of a fallen woman and that he more than once pulled her around the back yard by the hair of the head and kicked and beat her because she did not give him enough money."

"I don't know anything at all about that," remarked the recorder. "I am not employed as a detective and I must pass upon cases as they are presented before me."

The reporter found Policeman Zener on his beat last night and asked him why he had declined to prosecute Daly after having arrested him. Mr. Zener replied:

"After I arrested Daly for vagrancy and after he had been released on bonds the council granted him a license to conduct the saloon business in Chinatown. Considerable pressure—pressure which I could not afford to resist—was brought to bear upon me in the matter and the case was dismissed."

"When was the case dismissed?" asked the reporter.

"It was dismissed before the primary election," was the reply. "At that time Mr. Laning was running for the nomination for district attorney. When the article appeared in THE REPUBLICAN about a week ago to the effect that Mr. Laning had told one of its reporters that the Daly case had not been set for trial and that Mr. Laning had forgotten about it because, while he was away from court attending to his canvass for the district attorneyship, he had left his cases in charge of Justice of the Peace Prince and thought that the matter had been settled then, I called Mr. Laning's attention to the fact that the case had already been dismissed. That's all I have to say about the matter. I am a poor man and I don't want to get mixed up in any trouble about it."

This is a remarkable case, but no more remarkable than many others that have transpired under the infamous rule of the City Triangle. While Daly was yet out on bonds on the charge of vagrancy, which could easily have been substantiated, he applied to the city council for a license to open a saloon in Chinatown. The license was boldly asked for under the firm name of John F. Daly & Co., the "Co." being represented by a brother of Dan Maloney, a tolerably decent fellow. The application certifying that John F. Daly and his "Co." were persons of good moral character and so forth was signed by several people who lived two blocks away, and among them were the names of a woman of shady reputation and of Mary Allison, better known as Mollie Livingstone, the keeper of a "fashionable" house of ill-fame in Chinatown and the owner of more than a dozen houses of the same character in the same locality.

Before the application was presented to the council THE REPUBLICAN called attention to the fact that one of the signers was the notorious Mollie, who, not being of good moral character herself, should not be accepted as a suitable person to give a certificate of character to Macquereau Daly. But notwithstanding the publicity given to this infamous request, the good Mr. Cole, who masquerades under the title of mayor, and his Triangular associates, Hoss Fahey and Alford, granted the license to a man under charge of vagrancy and whose good moral character was vouched for by the keeper of a notorious house of prostitution.

Of course, there must have been some potent reason why the law was thus shamelessly overridden, and that reason cropped out a few days later when invitations were issued for the opening of the saloon over the name of Boss Billy Lovison as its manager.

These are facts that cannot be controverted. They show that the Democratic tricksters who have transformed the volunteer fire department into a political machine and who have made the name of Fresno politically a stench in the nostrils of decent men and women, have allied themselves with the macquereau element in return for its votes and influence, to the dishonor and the degradation of the fair name of Fresno.

The action of Justice of the Peace Crichton in bowing down before the Triangle and allowing himself to be made president of the first ward Democratic club at the behest of the Lovison and Fahey gang, and his subsequent explanation that he was forced to accept the office because he feared personal violence at the hands of the thugs, are still fresh in the memory of the citizens of Fresno. It would seem also as if that baleful influence had extended even to the court of Justice of the Peace Prince, who announced yesterday that he was going to San Francisco tomorrow for a two or three weeks' vacation. Next Monday the case of Boss William Fahey, charged with brutally beating a crippled old man named William O'Connor, will come up for trial in Justice Prince's court, but if Justice Prince persists in his intention of leaving Fresno before that interesting event takes place it will be very hard on him to convince the voters of the Third township that he has not flunked the responsibility which he should rightfully assume. His absenting himself on that occasion, and putting Justice Shannon, of Kingsburg, in his place, will be regarded with suspicion no matter how pure his motives may be.

On the whole it seems to the average observer to be a hopeless prospect that justice will be done, or that the laws will be carried out properly under the present administration of the infamous Triangle.

Captain Winchell Prosecutes.

Captain Led F. Winchell of the National Guard appeared as a prosecutor yesterday in Recorder Laning's court, he having swore to a complaint charging John Weidmann with having tried to steal a certain unknown sum of money from John Hutchison. Mr. Weidmann was duly arrested and will be duly convicted, unless he is innocent or has a Daly pull with the Triangle or its creatures. The case will be heard today.

THE WORLD'S FAIR.

A Meeting Yesterday in Which Some Talking Was Done.

The Fresno county World's Fair commission met yesterday. There were several ladies present from the ladies' auxiliary.

Miss Nellie Boyd suggested that a definite plan should be outlined that should represent in the exposition the county of Fresno both geographically and topographically, representing the mountain scenery and products. She asked for suggestions and amendments on this point.

Mr. Williams, a delegate to the Sacramento convention, reported that he had declared that Fresno wished to occupy the position of an individual exhibitor, and that the only favor that Fresno would ask of the World's Fair would be for ample space. He said that an answer might be expected on June 21st.

It was reported that Colonel Forsyth has offered every assistance in his power to the commission.

So far as reported only six counties have applied for space, so that there is no likelihood that Fresno has suffered anything by the delay.

AMUSEMENTS.

Farce Comedy at the Barton on Saturday Evening Next.

The two very funny comedians, Ferguson and McCarthy will present for the first time to a Fresno audience, "McCarthy's Mishaps," a play brimful of fun from start to finish. Those who can stand a good laugh can get it by attending "McCarthy's Mishaps."

On Monday evening, June 20th, that little prince of comedians, Frank Daniels, will appear at the Barton, presenting his ever popular play, "Little Puck," a performance worth seeing.

Rose Discharged.

T. Ross, charged with petty larceny, was discharged from custody yesterday. He had already been in jail nearly three months awaiting trial and the district attorney was of the opinion he could not be convicted anyway. Ross was accused of having stolen a watch from Willis Abbey. He was first charged with grand larceny, but the watch not being of sufficient value, the charge was changed to petty larceny.

CROP REPORT.

OBSERVER WILLIAMS ISSUES HIS SECOND BULLETIN.

The Weather in Fresno, Tulare and Merced Counties, and its Effect on Crops.

Observer J. R. Williams issued the following crop bulletin yesterday:

United States Department of Agriculture, Weather Bureau. Crop bulletin No. 2, for the week ending Monday, June 13, 1892.

Fresno district—The weather for the past week has been unusual, to say the least, with continuous cold winds; rain and hail on June 9th in the valley and 12 inches of snow at the timber line on the Sierras.

Highest temperature during the week 84 degrees, lowest 48, rainfall .00 of an inch; rainfall for the season 9.93 inches, which is .75 above the average for the past five years.

This weather has developed the coniure to such an extent that fully 50 per cent of the raisin grapes have fallen, but the second crop and increased acreage coming into bearing will make the crop nearly as large as last year. It is worthy of note that where the Muscat is grafted upon the Sultana and Zinfandel no loss has been observed.

The ripening of tree fruit has been retarded. The Fresno cannery started 200 hands working on apricots on June 11th and will increase the force to 800 soon.

The high winds stopped harvesting, but the crews start out again today and hope to finish without any interruption. Alfalfa is coming in in great quantities.

Oleander district—High winds and low temperature have retarded the ripening of fruit and injured the grapes.

Easton district—The weather has been injurious to the raisin grape; vineyards under 6 years old show a loss of 80 per cent; the older ones a loss of 20 per cent.

Sanger district—Rainfall 0.90 of an inch on June 9th. Cool weather has been injurious to raisin grapes, but beneficial to grain.

Merced county: Merced district—No rainfall: temperature below the average with high winds, which will make the harvest three weeks later. Heavy dews at night.

Tulare county: Pixley district—Temperature below the average; 0.60 of an inch rainfall, beneficial to fruits and vegetables. No further reports in.

Newspapers publishing this bulletin will please exchange. Editors are kindly requested to mention the fact that this bulletin will be issued weekly and that I would like a correspondent at every postoffice in Fresno, Tulare and Merced counties, who are requested to mail their report Monday morning, so it will reach me by Tuesday morning, when this bulletin must be made out.

Bulletin No. 1 was well received, and gave good satisfaction, and with the assistance of reporters who will be prompt and accurate, can be made a success.

THE UNFORTUNATE GIRLS.

They Promised to Be Good and Went Home.

The two unfortunate girls whose story was told exclusively in THE REPUBLICAN yesterday morning were taken from jail yesterday and brought before Justice Prince.

In the case of the elder girl sentence was suspended during her future good behavior, and the charge against her sister was dismissed, it being believed that she was more sinned against than sinning.

The girls promised to behave themselves and went home with their mother, who seemed happy to have them with her again. The eldest has obtained employment as a domestic in a family and the grinding temptation of poverty has been removed from her pathway.

The Seventh Premium.

The seventh premium in THE REPUBLICAN election estimate contest is a ladies' elegant gold watch. It was selected from the stock of Peters' jewelry store in the Fiske block, and as this concern is retiring from business everything is placed at lowest cost price. The value ($35) put on the watch is therefore very low. It can be seen at Peters' establishment.

THE LONDON MARKET THE BOSS

A Deduction Drawn from William Laing Malcomson's Letter to The Republican.

EDITOR REPUBLICAN.—The article in your Sunday issue by Mr. Malcomson upon the London raisin market is certainly not only at the present gloomy raisin prospect, a silver lining in the clouds, but more—it is a gospel of golden opportunities which should not be permitted to pass the doors of the growers unheeded.

Fellow growers, let us promptly grasp this opportunity to better our own condition by organizing ourselves for the purpose of reaching this splendid London market. Let every grower co-operate in this matter. Co-operation is the only principle and plan by which the growers can reap any substantial financial benefit out of the good news that we find in Mr. Malcomson's letter. And hear what Mr. Malcomson himself has to say upon this matter. He says:

"I maintain if the producers will only co-operate, as they should, in a body and pack and ship direct their own goods, England has a market for more than we can produce."

Remember, that by such co-operation (Mr. Malcolmson so informs us), we can realize as high as 25 cents per pound for first class raisins—as London merchants have offered that price—and 6 cents per pound will pay all expenses incurred upon the raisins in transit and handlings between grower and buyer, leaving 19 cents per pound to the grower, and the second crop of green muscat grapes—now considered here as hog feed—will bring us as high as 8 to 12 cents per pound, all expenses being less than 6 cents per pound, leaving the grower a net profit of $40@120 per ton for green muscat grapes.

With such good news before us, is it possible that there is a single grower so careless and ignorant of his own interests as to refuse to co-operate with his fellow growers in the obtaining of such splendid and well paying results from his own vineyard? We hope not; but on the other hand, trust that every grower has sufficient intelligence to see what golden harvests he will be enabled to reap, simply by organizing a grand union of growers, which then could ship this season's raisin crop direct to London.

Let us get through as fast as possible with the labor question at the meeting to be held at De Witt hall, Fresno, next Saturday at 2 o'clock, and immediately after that proceed to organize the long talked of growers' co-operative union. Let us draw up a few short, sharp and plain resolutions and the outlines of a prospectus, all of which should be placed in the hands of a number of active and efficient canvassers, whose duty it should be to call upon every man in the county for signatures to the same.

As it is to be seen from Mr. Malcomson's letter that the packers have already made overtures to him by which they propose to reap this glorious London harvest—which more fittingly and justly should fall into the growers' hands—hence the necessity that the growers act the more promptly, so as to preoccupy this splendid market. The growers should bind themselves each to the other, by a heavy bond if necessary, not to sell to speculators, but organize and stand shoulder to shoulder, and with the unity like that of one man, work in harmony so as to reach the London market.

A large distributing depot should be opened in London (the place may be leased for the season) under the control of a manager appointed by the grower's union, who should receive and sell all shipments for cash, and all buyers of raisins should pay all funds into London banks, which should be appointed treasurer's of the union, such banks to remit all funds direct to Fresno banks, where every grower should receive the money due him for his share shipped by the union.

Fellow growers, now is the golden opportunity to organize; we know now where we can sell our raisins at very good prices, therefore every grower in the county should attend the meeting at Fresno next Saturday afternoon and set the ball a rolling, and never stop rolling it until it has entered the great city of London. Then prosperity, wealth and contentment will be our portion, while the salvation of the raisin industry is drawing nigh with giant strides.

DAMAGE BY FIRE.

A Farmer Makes a Very Justifiable Complaint.

EDITOR REPUBLICAN.—Last year a neighbor set a fire that ran on to my farm and destroyed twenty-two rods of three-wire pasture fence; another neighbor has just set a fire that ran some hundreds of yards on my premises. It seems to me that the newspapers are neglectful in not keeping it before the people that setting fires in such a way is a crime. The crime is not in the fire getting away and doing damage, but the crime is in setting the fire, even on one's premises, without first making ample provision to keep the fire within control.

Will setting fires be stopped, or shall we prosecute a few to give warning?

FARMER.

[The newspapers are not at all to blame. They are always ready to reprove invasion upon the property of another. The blame lies upon the persons who are injured and who neglect to report the facts to the newspapers. The courts will take cognizance of all such invasions. See the district attorney. He's a pretty good fellow.—EDITOR REPUBLICAN.]

WIFE BEATER COLLINS

A Man Who is a Vineyardist and a Brute

HE USED A BREAST STRAP

Assistant District Attorney Welsh Recommends the Full Penalty of the Law.

A very aggravated case of wife beating was tried before Justice Prince yesterday.

C. C. Collins, a vineyardist residing in Central colony, was the defendant, and it was charged that he cruelly beat his wife and his 16-year-old daughter and drove them out of the house.

After his wife and daughter had detailed his cruel acts Collins declined to go upon the stand, and Assistant District Attorney Welsh recommended that he should be punished to the full extent of the law, there being no mitigating circumstances whatever.

Mrs. Collins testified that Collins was under the influence of liquor, but not so much as not to know what he was doing. He had no valid cause of complaint, but abused his family because of his bad temper. He beat his wife and daughter with his fists and with a heavy breast strap, and called them all sorts of vile names.

The daughter is a most exemplary young woman, and has worked hard in order to be enabled to receive such an education as every good American should have.

She worked on her father's vineyard almost in the capacity of a hired man, and for two years was employed in the Meade packing house. Out of her slender earnings she saved sufficient to buy a horse and her sister's earnings purchased a cart. The rig was used to convey her to and from school in this city, five miles away from home.

This was not the only act of brutality of which Collins was guilty, but the last act was so aggravated that his family in self defense were forced to prosecute him.

The circumstances of the case make his offense all the more aggravating. The offense of wife beating is one of the most cowardly and inexcusable in the whole category of crime.

The leopard cannot change his spots, but then that animal has not the versatility of the Bill delegates-at-large to the national convention who have gone to Chicago to vote for Grover Cleveland.

The Los Angeles Times, which was one of the most aggressive advocates of Blaine, now stands on the broad platform that principles are greater than men and accords a cheerful support to the national ticket. The Times is too broad gauge to sulk when the issue of protection to American industry is at stake.

The fact that Justice Prince has announced his intention to take a vacation at the time when the Fahey-O'Connor assault case comes up for trial in his court, has given rise to the opinion that he is trying to evade the responsibility of trying the case. The justice can easily set that report at rest by deferring his pleasure trip for a few days.

The Oakland Times of recent date fills its first editorial column with pictures of five prominent Democrats who are aspirants for the presidential nomination. It is noticeable that Mr. Hill's picture appears at the head of the column and Grover Cleveland's next to the bottom, which reminds us that when you "convince a man against his will he's of the same opinion still."

The Ladies' World Fair association of Fresno county are very much in earnest in the work they have undertaken, and can be depended upon to make a success of those features of the exhibit to which they will give their attention. All who desire the success of the Fresno exhibit should extend a helping hand to the ladies. They can be depended on to make good use of every facility afforded them.

The Republican has no disposition to find fault with its Democratic brethren for christening their latest organization the Grover Cleveland club, but if an event not at all impossible should happen and that gentleman be laid on the shelf by the national convention, the name might prove a little awkward. It is a little like naming a child before its sex is known. If it should prove to be Hill—but that is really unthinkable in this connection.

The Examiner says that the McKinley bill is the enemy of progress because it levys a duty on imported aluminum. Will the Examiner kindly inform us why the United States should not manufacture its own aluminum? What is the objection to the American article? The United States manufacturers iron and steel a great deal cheaper than those articles were formerly supplied by England. Why, then, should it not make its own aluminum, and furnish labor to its own workmen?

Is alfalfa everlasting? It is yet to be proven that it is not. The Visalia Delta says that on the Heinzen ranch at Livermore is a small patch of seven or eight acres of alfalfa, which was sown in 1864. The only thing done to it, except the regular cutting of hay, was last year, when it was plowed and the ground sown to wheat. This year there is a fair stand of alfalfa again, which is thriftily growing and spreading, so that it will soon be as good as it ever was. Alfalfa is the most valuable plant of the kind that grows in this climate.

The Selma Irrigator suggests that as the Chinese highbinders have introduced certain oriental crimes in this country that we might appropriately make use of the Chinese methods of punishment, viz: chopping off the heads of the culprits. The chopping process is good enough, but we do not see that it offers any particular advantage over the time honored American custom of hanging by the neck. The failure to prevent crime is not due to methods of punishment so much as to frequent failures to inflict punishment of any kind. The Chinese criminals have a very high appreciation of the twists and turns which justice is defeated in the courts of a Christian nation.

EDITORIAL TRIUMPHS.

The life of the newspaper man is not entirely made up of struggles with persistent creditors and angry subscribers. Luck comes his way occasionally, and there are rare but unmistakable evidence that the importance of his work is appreciated. Indeed, the signs are not wanting that the star of journalism is in the ascendancy. An editor has just been nominated for vice president of the United States, and it is given out that our own M. H. de Young could have had the distinguished honor for the asking. This is encouraging. If the great guns of journalism are thus sought out for preferment, it is not altogether certain that it may not become the custom of the county to reward common newspaper men with something beside hard kicks. That is a cheerful view to take of the matter at any rate, and it pays to be hopeful. As convincing evidence of the truth of that statement we cite the case of the editor of the Sissons Mascot, who is realizing large dividends out of hope and a large measure of joy for present affluence. His paper has just passed its first annual milestone, and he writes as follows regarding that important epoch:

A year has rolled by and the Mascot may be said to have passed safely over the period most propitious to financial colic. During this period the editor with unusual forethought and determination has never been whipped or refused to take a drink. The goddess of fortune has been peculiarly kind to us, the man who promised us wood on subscription having actually brought it, and the lawn tennis suit left in our office last summer by the tourist who was drowned in the Sacramento river was a most perfect fit. We are now publishing six copies a week, and are running two advertisements, one for a dentist and the other for an undertaker, payable in trade, which is just the same as money to us. The policy of this sheet for the next few months will be governed entirely by the liberality of the candidates. Whatever we express in these columns will be C. O. D. We thank our friends in advance for the patronage which they are going to give us and will strive to forget the past.

It will be seen from this that the less prominent members of the guild have their streaks of good fortune and their triumphs as well as their difficulties and tribulations. Messrs. De Young and Reid, of course, publish larger newspapers and have larger lists of subscribers than the editor of the Sissons Mascot, but they are probably not more happy when a foreign mission, a senatorship or the vice presidency comes their way, than the editor of the Mascot is when a belated load of cordwood drives up to his office door or he falls heir by act of providence as it were to a suit of good second-hand clothes. The vice presidency is a nice thing for the man who gets it, but there is also solid comfort in cordwood and clothes to the person who needs them in his business.

Boils.

Boils according to Dr. King, an eminent authority "are generally connected with derangements of the liver and stomach." While the older Sarsaparillas contain potash which aggravates eruptions, Joy's is peculiarly adapted to the stomach and bowel corrective, and is the only one that is so. Its regulating influences cause boils to dry up and disappear almost immediately. A case in point.

"I had boils break out on my neck. One had busted. I took Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla and in a few days the other boils had dried up. In the spring of 1890 I took one of the other Sarsaparillas and the result was a mass of pimples. Hearing that Joy's was later and acted differently I used it this year with the above satisfactory results."

J. NEWMAN, Alameda, Cal.

Formerly with the "Alta California," S. F.

Robt. Walsh, with Wells Fargo & Co., and scores of other San Franciscans report the same experience. It avoids the use of the lance

JOY'S Vegetable Sarsaparilla

As it is the only Sarsaparilla that purifies the blood without the ugly potash eruptions, insist on Joy's and don't be talked into taking another.

GAS

At $2.50 Per Thousand Feet

IS CHEAPER FOR LIGHT THAN THE so-called Incandescent Lamps. One 5 foot gas burner gives as much light as two 16 candle incandescent lamps.

Gas for cooking is cheaper and safer than gasoline and removes all danger from fire and reduces your insurance. We positively guarantee that our stove burners will use only 2¾ cents worth of gas per hour. We furnish consumers with gas stoves at actual cost. We make no profit on stoves. Where a stove is wanted in rooms the consumer will pay for pipe work and connections, which will not exceed $2.50. In dwellings the consumer will be charged for labor and pipe from curb to meter.

Call at our office for testimonials as to the economy of gas for cooking and all particulars relating to pipe and stoves and prices.

Mrs. R. A. Hawkins says: The gas used for lighting two families and also for cooking coal oil on $1.25 in May, and she would not be without the stove.

E. S. Valentine says he has displaced wood entirely and has stove connected with boiler and is a perfect success.

Mrs. Wm. Harvey says: I find by using gas as a fuel for cooking it succeeds compared to cost of wood. We have displaced wood entirely.

REMARKABLE!

YET TRUE

Is the fact, but we continue to lead as the cheapest house in the valley.

THE REASONS WHY!

1. Because we deal with only the largest firms in the United States.
2. Because we buy in such quantities as to obtain inside figures.
3. Because we are content with a smaller percentage of Profit than any house in the San Joaquin Valley.

You Don't Believe It?

Of course not. We don't expect you to until we are permitted to demonstrate the fact in a purchase that will open your eyes wider than they have ever been opened before, even in this wide-awake community. Remember it remains with you to be convinced.

ANOTHER CASE ⧋ED

The Daly Vagrancy Case Dismissed on the Sly.

A TRAVESTY ON JUSTICE

An Official Who Contemplates Dodging the Responsibility of the Fahey Trial.

"Judge, has the case of John F. Daly for vagrancy been set for trial yet?" asked a REPUBLICAN reporter yesterday of Recorder Laning.

"Daly; Daly;" repeated the recorder, musingly. Then after a pause in order to refresh his memory he replied, "O, yes; that case was dismissed several days ago."

"Why?" was asked.

"Because the complaining witness said that he had no evidence," replied the recorder.

"Who was the complaining witness?" was asked.

"Officer Zener; by the by, when you asked me the other day whether the case was set for trial and when I examined the record I found that it was not set. But it was set and placed on the calendar, although not placed on the record."

Special Policeman Ragsdale who was listening to the conversation said: "If Zener had no evidence against Daly, the rest of the police force had. They knew that Daly was living off the earnings of a fallen woman and that he more than once pulled her around the back yard by the hair of the head and kicked and beat her because she did not give him enough money."

"I don't know anything at all about that," remarked the recorder. "I am not employed as a detective and I must pass upon cases as they are presented before me."

The reporter found Policeman Zener on his beat last night and asked him why he had declined to prosecute Daly after having arrested him. Mr. Zener replied:

"After I arrested Daly for vagrancy and after he had been released on bonds the council granted him a license to conduct the saloon business in Chinatown. Considerable pressure—pressure which I could not afford to resist—was brought to bear upon me in the matter and the case was dismissed."

"When was the case dismissed?" asked the reporter.

"It was dismissed before the primary election," was the reply. "At that time Mr. Laning was running for the nomination for district attorney. When the article appeared in THE REPUBLICAN about a week ago to the effect that Mr. Laning had told one of its reporters that the Daly case had not been set for trial and that Mr. Laning had forgotten about it because, while he was away from court attending to his canvass for the district attorneyship, he had left his cases in charge of Justice of the Peace Prince and thought that the matter had been settled then, I called Mr. Laning's attention to the fact that the case had already been dismissed. That's all I have to say about the matter. I am a poor man and I don't want to get mixed up in any trouble about it."

This is a remarkable case, but no more remarkable than many others that have transpired under the infamous rule of the City Triangle. While Daly was yet out on bonds on the charge of vagrancy, which could easily have been substantiated, he applied to the city council for a license to open a saloon in Chinatown. The license was boldly asked for under the firm name of John F. Daly & Co., the "Co." being represented by a brother of Dan Maloney, a tolerably decent fellow. The application certifying that John F. Daly and his "Co." were persons of good moral character and so forth was signed by several people who lived two blocks away, and among them were the names of a woman of shady reputation and of Mary Allison, better known as Mollie Livingstone, the keeper of a "fashionable" house of ill-fame in Chinatown and the owner of more than a dozen houses of the same character in the same locality.

Before the application was presented to the council THE REPUBLICAN called attention to the fact that one of the signers was the notorious Mollie, who, not being of good moral character herself, should not be accepted as a suitable person to give a certificate of character to Macquorean Daly. But notwithstanding the publicity given to this infamous request, the good Mr. Cole, who masquerades under the title of mayor, and his Triangular associates, Boss Fahey and Alford, granted the license to a man under charge of vagrancy and whose good moral character was vouched for by the keeper of a notorious house of prostitution.

Of course, there must have been some potent reason why the law was thus shamelessly overridden, and that reason cropped out a few days later when invitations were issued for the opening of the saloon over the name of Boss Billy Levison as its manager.

These are facts that cannot be controverted. They show that the Democratic tricksters who have transformed the volunteer fire department into a political machine and who have made the name of Fresno politically a stench in the nostrils of decent men and women, have allied themselves with the macquerean element in return for its votes and influence, to the dishonor and the degradation of the fair name of Fresno.

The action of Justice of the Peace Crichton in bowing down before the Triangle and allowing himself to be made president of the first ward Democratic club at the behest of the Levison and Fahey gang, and his subsequent explanation that he was "forced to accept the office because he feared personal violence at the hands of the thugs, are still fresh in the memory of the citizens of Fresno. It would seem also as if that baleful influence had extended even to the court of Justice of the Peace Prince, who announced yesterday that he was going to San Francisco tomorrow for a two or three weeks' vacation. Next Monday the case of Boss William Fahey, charged with brutally beating a crippled old man named William O'Connor, will come up for trial in Justice Prince's court, but if Justice Prince persists in his intention of leaving Fresno before that interesting event takes place it will be very hard on him to convince the voters of the Third township that he has not flunked the responsibility which he should rightfully assume. His absenting himself on that occasion, and putting Justice Shannon of Kingsburg in his place, will be regarded with suspicion no matter how pure his motives may be.

On the whole it seems to the average observer to be a hopeless prospect that justice will be done, or that the laws will be carried out properly under the present administration of the infamous Triangle.

Captain Winchell Prosecutes.

Captain Led F. Winchell of the National Guard appeared as a prosecutor yesterday in Recorder Laning's court, he having swore to a complaint charging John Weidmann with having tried to steal a certain unknown sum of money from John Hutchison. Mr. Weidmann was duly arrested and will be duly convicted, unless he is innocent or has a Daly pull with the Triangle or its creatures. The case will be heard today.

THE WORLD'S FAIR.

A Meeting Yesterday in Which Some Talking Was Done.

The Fresno county World's Fair commission met yesterday. There were several ladies present from the ladies' auxiliary.

Miss Nellie Boyd suggested that a definite plan should be outlined that should represent in the exposition the county of Fresno both geographically and topographically, representing the mountain scenery and products. She asked for suggestions and amendments on this point.

Mr. Williams, a delegate to the Sacramento convention, reported that he had declared that Fresno wished to occupy the position of an individual exhibitor, and that the only favor that Fresno would ask of the World's Fair would be for ample space. He said that an answer might be expected on June 21st.

It was reported that Colonel Forsyth has offered every assistance in his power to the commission.

So far as reported only six counties have applied for space, so that there is no likelihood that Fresno has suffered anything by the delay.

AMUSEMENTS.

Farce Comedy at the Barton on Saturday Evening Next.

The two very funny comedians, Ferguson and McCarthy will present for the first time to a Fresno audience, "McCarthy's Mishaps," a play brimful of fun from start to finish. Those who can stand a good laugh can get it by attending "McCarthy's Mishaps."

On Monday evening, June 20th, that little prince of comedians, Frank Daniels, will appear at the Barton, presenting his ever popular play, "Little Puck," a performance worth seeing.

Ross Discharged.

T. Ross, charged with petty larceny, was discharged from custody yesterday. He had already been in jail nearly three months awaiting trial and the district attorney was of the opinion he could not be convicted anyway. Ross was accused of having stolen a watch from Willis Abbey. He was first charged with grand larceny, but the watch not being of sufficient value, the charge was changed to petty larceny.

CROP REPORT.

OBSERVER WILLIAMS ISSUES HIS SECOND BULLETIN.

The Weather in Fresno, Tulare and Merced Counties, and its Effect on Crops.

Observer J. R. Williams issued the following crop bulletin yesterday:

United States Department of Agriculture, Weather Bureau. Crop bulletin No. 2, for the week ending Monday, June 13, 1892.

Fresno district—The weather for the past week has been unusual, to say the least, with continuous cold winds; rain and hail on June 9th in the valley and 12 inches of snow at the timber line on the Sierras.

Highest temperature during the week 84 degrees, lowest 48, rainfall .00 of an inch; rainfall for the season 9.93 inches, which is .75 above the average for the past five years.

This weather has developed the couture to such an extent that fully 50 per cent of the raisin grapes have fallen, but the second crop and increased acreage coming into bearing will make the crop nearly as large as last year. It is worthy of note that where the Muscat is grafted upon the Sultana and Zinfandel no loss has been observed.

The ripening of tree fruit has been retarded. The Fresno cannery started 200 hands working on apricots on June 11th and will increase the force to 600 soon.

The high winds stopped harvesting, but the crews start out again today and hope to finish without any interruption. Alfalfa is coming in in great quantities.

Oleander district—High winds and low temperature have retarded the ripening of fruit and injured the grapes.

Easton district—The weather has been injurious to the raisin grape; vineyards under 6 years old show a loss of 50 per cent; the older ones a loss of 20 per cent.

Sanger district—Rainfall 0.96 of an inch on June 9th. Cool weather has been injurious to raisin grapes, but beneficial to grain.

Merced county: Merced district—No rainfall: temperature below the average with high winds, which will make the harvest three weeks later. Heavy dews at night.

Tulare county: Pixley district—Temperature below the average; 0.60 of an inch rainfall, beneficial to fruits and vegetables. No further reports in.

Newspapers publishing this bulletin will please exchange. Editors are kindly requested to mention the fact that this bulletin will be issued weekly and that I would like a correspondent at every post-office in Fresno, Tulare and Merced counties, who are requested to mail their report Monday morning, so it will reach me by Tuesday morning, when this bulletin must be made out.

Bulletin No. 1 was well received, and gave good satisfaction, and with the assistance of reporters who will be prompt and accurate, can be made a success.

THE UNFORTUNATE GIRLS.

They Promised to Be Good and Went Home.

The two unfortunate girls whose story was told exclusively in THE REPUBLICAN yesterday morning were taken from jail yesterday and brought before Justice Prince.

In the case of the older girl sentence was suspended during her future good behavior, and the charge against her sister was dismissed, it being believed that she was more sinned against than sinning.

The girls promised to behave themselves and went home with their mother, who seemed happy to have them with her again. The eldest has obtained employment as a domestic in a family and the grinding temptation of poverty has been removed from her pathway.

The Seventh Premium.

The seventh premium in THE REPUBLICAN election estimate contest is a ladies' elegant gold watch. It was selected from the stock of Peters' jewelry store in the Fiske block, and as this concern is retiring from business everything is placed at lowest cost price. The value ($35) put on the watch is therefore very low. It can be seen at Peters' establishment.

THE LONDON MARKET THE BOSS

A Deduction Drawn from William Laing Malcomson's Letter to The Republican.

EDITOR REPUBLICAN.—The article in your Sunday issue by Mr. Malcomson upon the London raisin market is certainly not only at the present gloomy raisin prospect, a silver lining in the clouds, but more—it is a gospel of golden opportunities which should not be permitted to pass the doors of the growers unheeded.

Fellow growers, let us promptly grasp this opportunity to better our own condition by organizing ourselves for the purpose of reaching this splendid London market. Let every grower co-operate in this matter. Co-operation is the only principle and plan by which the growers can reap any substantial financial benefit out of the good news that we find in Mr. Malcomson's letter. And hear what Mr. Malcomson himself has to say upon this matter. He says:

"I maintain if the producers will only co-operate, as they should, in a body and pack and ship direct their own goods, England has a market for more than we can produce."

Remember, that by such co-operation (Mr. Malcolmson so informs us), we can realize as high as 25 cents per pound for first class raisins—as London merchants have offered that price—and 11 cents per pound will pay all expenses incurred upon the raisins in transit and handlings between grower and buyer, leaving 19 cents per pound to the grower, and the second crop of green muscat grapes—now considered here as hog-feed—will bring us as high as 8 to 12 cents per pound, all expenses being less than 6 cents per pound, leaving the grower a net profit of $40@120 per ton for green muscat grapes.

With such good news before us, is it possible that there is a single grower so careless and ignorant of his own interests as to refuse to co-operate with his fellow growers in the obtaining of such splendid and well paying results from his own vineyard? We hope not; but on the other hand, trust that every grower has sufficient intelligence to see what golden harvests he will be enabled to reap, simply by organizing a grand union of growers, which then could ship this season's raisin crop direct to London.

Let us get through as fast as possible with the labor question at the meeting to be held at De Witt hall, Fresno, next Saturday at 2 o'clock, and immediately after that proceed to organize the long talked of growers' co-operative union. Let us draw up a few short, sharp and plain resolutions and the outlines of a prospectus, all of which should be placed in the hands of a number of active and efficient canvassers, whose duty it should be to call upon every man in the county for signatures to the same.

As it is to be seen from Mr. Malcomson's letter that the packers have already made overtures to him by which they propose to reap this glorious London harvest—which more fittingly and justly should fall into the growers' hands—hence the necessity that the growers act the more promptly, so as to preoccupy this splendid market. The growers should bind themselves each to the other, by a heavy bond if necessary, not to sell to speculators, but organize and stand shoulder to shoulder, and with the unity like that of one man, work in harmony so as to reach the London market.

A large distributing depot should be opened in London (the place may be loased for the season) under the control of a manager appointed by the grower's union, who should receive and sell all shipments for cash, and all buyers of raisins should pay all funds into London banks, which should be appointed treasurer's of the union, such banks to remit all funds direct to Fresno banks, where every grower should receive the money due him for his share shipped by the union.

Fellow growers, now is the golden opportunity to organize; we know now where we can sell our raisins at very good prices, therefore every grower in the county should attend the meeting at Fresno next Saturday afternoon and set the ball a rolling, and never stop rolling it until it has entered the great city of London. Then prosperity, wealth and contentment will be our portion, while the salvation of the raisin industry is drawing nigh with giant strides.

DAMAGE BY FIRE.

A Farmer Makes a Very Justifiable Complaint.

EDITOR REPUBLICAN.—Last year a neighbor set a fire that ran on to my farm and destroyed twenty-two rods of three-wire pasture fence; another neighbor has just set a fire that ran some hundreds of yards on my premises. It seems to me that the newspapers are neglectful in not keeping it before the people that setting fires in such a way is a crime. The crime is not in the fire getting away and doing damage, but the crime is in setting the fire, even on one's premises, without first making ample provision to keep the fire within control.

Will setting fires be stopped, or shall we prosecute a few to give warning?

FARMER.

[The newspapers are not at all to blame. They are always ready to reprave invasion upon the property of another. The blame lies upon the persons who are injured and who neglect to report the facts to the newspapers. The courts will take cognizance of all such invasions. See the district attorney. He's a pretty good fellow.—EDITOR REPUBLICAN.]

WIFE BEATER COLLINS

A Man Who is a Vineyardist and a Brute

HE USED A BREAST STRAP

Assistant District Attorney Welsh Recommends the Full Penalty of the Law.

A very aggravated case of wife beating was tried before Justice Prince yesterday.

C. C. Collins, a vineyardist residing in Central colony, was the defendant, and it was charged that he cruelly beat his wife and his 18-year-old daughter and drove them out of the house.

After his wife and daughter had detailed his cruel acts Collins declined to go upon the stand, and Assistant District Attorney Welsh recommended that he should be punished to the full extent of the law, there being no mitigating circumstances whatever.

Mrs. Collins testified that Collins was under the influence of liquor, but not so much as not to know what he was doing. He had no valid cause of complaint, but abused his family because of his bad temper. He beat his wife and daughter with his fists and with a heavy breast strap, and called them all sorts of vile names.

The daughter is a most exemplary young woman, and has worked hard in order to be enabled to receive such an education as every good American should have.

She worked on her father's vineyard almost in the capacity of a hired man, and for two years was employed in the Meade packing house. Out of her slender earnings she saved sufficient to buy a horse and her sister's earnings purchased a cart. The rig was used to convey her to and from school in this city, five miles away from home.

This was not the only act of brutality of which Collins was guilty, but the last act was so aggravated that his family in self defense were forced to prosecute him.

The circumstances of the case make his offense all the more aggravating. The offense of wife beating is one of the most cowardly and inexcusable in the whole category of crime.

THE CLEVELAND CLUB

A Permanent Organization Effected.

ENTHUSIASTIC SPEECHES MADE

The Machine Men View the Organization With Distrust.

Quite a number of Democrats in favor of organizing a Cleveland campaign club met last night at Bodega hall. There had been a meeting the night before, at which a committee on permanent organization was appointed, and the meeting held last night was for the purpose of receiving the report of the committee.

The meeting was called to order by W. H. McKenzie, who next asked those who wished to join the club to sign the roll. Those sterling Cleveland men, R. B. Terry and Senator G. G. Goucher were absent, which caused some remark.

B. T. Alford and William Fahey were present, but did not sign the roll. About forty-five signatures were obtained.

The committee on permanent organization then reported as follows:

We suggest that the name of this organization be the Central Grover Cleveland club.

While the members of this club are for Grover Cleveland for President, at the same time they feel that whether Mr. Cleveland or some other man be made the nominee at the Chicago convention, this organization will honor itself by taking the name of that great Democratic chieftain, who stands first of all living men in the hearts of the citizens of these United States.

Grover Cleveland is the man who led the party out of the wilderness. He made it successful after twenty-five years of defeat and disaster. He gave it the issue upon which it won the unparalleled victory of 1890.

He is a leader who understands the wants of the people and sympathizes with their needs; who has convictions and principles that he is able to defend and willing to stand by; whose motive is to promote their welfare and serve the highest interests of the country, and who is willing to leave to them the choice of instruments for the execution of their will.

He is the ideal leader of the people for all economic and fiscal legislation for their good. He is the champion of the greatest number, and that too with absolute independence of self advancement.

The overwhelming popular sentiment in favor of tariff reform is due more entirely and conspicuously to him than to all other Democratic leaders combined.

The shift of sentiment in favor of the dignity and responsibility of official trust is his work. The wholesale exposure of pension frauds and partisan extravagance, which were a stench in the nostrils of popular government, were the results of his imperious honesty and his aggressive sense of reform.

Therefore, we think it fitting that in a county where every vote was cast in favor of instructing its delegates for Cleveland for President, no matter who is the nominee of the Chicago convention, the name of this organization should be as has been above suggested.

The report then suggested W. H. McKenzie for permanent president and the following for vice presidents: James C. Collyer, W. J. Tinnin, W. T. Mattingly, S. S. Wright, Sam Zetz, Judge Gillum Baley, W. R. Furnish, Phil Schmitz and N. C. Coldwell.

J. W. Ferguson was suggested for permanent secretary, W. M. Wyatt for permanent treasurer, and J. B. Hayes for permanent corresponding secretary.

The report closes by recommending that the president appoint an executive committee of five, whose duties shall be indicated by the president. It was signed by H. St. G. Hopkins, president, and L. B. McWhirter, secretary.

The report was unanimously adopted, after which a number of speeches were made. Those who spoke were W. J. Tinnin, J. B. Graham, W. P. Thompson, O. L. Evarts, J. P. Menx, W. S. Laus and L. B. McWhirter.

W. P. Thompson made a particularly good speech from a Cleveland standpoint and was frequently applauded. W. L. Lane thought to adopt the name of Cleveland for the club might offend those who were opposed to the Democratic leader.

L. B. McWhirter replied to Lane's objection, speaking as follows:

"While I know Lane is a good Democrat, he has forgotten that the name of Cleveland has already been chosen for this club and chosen unanimously. Mr. Cleveland is the man of all others whose brand we should wear in this campaign. He is the man who has given us the issue upon which we will win in November whether he is nominated or not. He is the man who has eliminated sensational issues from politics, and if nominated tomorrow his past record is a guarantee that no Republican will be false enough to intimate the old story that his election will be followed by the payment of confederate bonds or the enslaving of the negroes. He has made the party dress on the line of tariff reform.

"Why are we for him? is answered by the language of the report that we read tonight; and there are other reasons why we are for him. Because he is the heavy weight of the political arena; because he is a man in and out, up and down, from stem to stearn, from marrow to epidermis, and from scalp to heel.

"In brains, in his perfect sympathy with the needs of the people, in a superb honesty and in a heroic courage that makes a mockery of the saying attributed to Henry Clay, 'that he would rather be right than President' he stands today without a rival either in fact or in the hearts of the people."

It is stated that the county and city machine men view the Cleveland club with great suspicion, and what gives color to the report is the absence of nearly all of them from the meeting. Those who were present did not sign the roll.

The statement of the members of the club that Cleveland's name is merely to be used as a slogan and has no direct bearing on his nomination is taken cum grano salis by the machine men, some of whom are believed to consider the movement as a menace to their power.

A Tree That Furnishes Real Lace.

The incabark tree grows in the West Indies. It is a lofty tree, with ovate, entire, smooth leaves and white flowers. It is remarkable for the tenacity of its inner bark and the readiness with which the inner bark may be separated—after maceration in water—into layers resembling lace. A governor of Jamaica is said to have presented to Charles II a cravat, frill and ruffles made of the Goldtwaite's Geographical Magazine.

A Chilly Affair.

"Mr. Simpkins-Harold," she said, with faltering coyness, while he gave a sudden start of terror as the thought that this is the year 1892 flashed upon him, "I am the bearer of a message from my father. He says that you must come here no longer without stating your intentions. And, Harold, you know this is leap year, and—and, oh, need I say more?"

"Miss Beggs," replied the young man, recovering his self possession and his arm, "I to understand that your father charged you to deliver to me an ultimatum?"

"Why, yes, Harold, if you will use those newspaper terms at such a moment."

"Say to him, then," said the young man, "that his representative is persona non grata to me, and that I firmly but respectfully decline to continue diplomatic relations."

In a moment he was gone. But the young girl did not falter. "Persona non grata, am I?" she mused. "That might have done a week or two ago, but it has been shown that when really serious complications have arisen that plea doesn't go. And I just reckon, Harold Simpkins," she continued aloud, as a rosy flush mantled her plump cheek, "that I've got a little batch of diplomatic correspondence which, when read before any court of breach of promise arbitration in the country, will bring me in a good big indemnity too."—Chicago Times.

Edward Shepherd, Harrisburg, Ill., had a running sore on his leg of eight years standing. Used three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and his leg is sound and well. Is This For You?

It will interest you to know that there is a largely increased demand for our silverware—it seems to have taken popular fancy by storm. We are not at any loss for an explanation. Popular judgment doesn't often make mistakes and it isn't mistaken this time. These articles have fallen into general favor because they are designed with the utmost care and skill and because they are the result of artistic and studied workmanship. What is perhaps as much to the point as anything else that can be said about them is that they are sold at figures well within the reach of little incomes.
